

Jungle Lite is a 2-player abstract strategy board game based on a simplified Jungle-style animal conflict system. Each player controls three animals — Tiger, Crocodile, and Gorilla— and tries to either capture all of the opponent's pieces or invade the opponent's home area. Each player must move all of their remaining animals once before they can start reusing them again.

The Board: a planar checker board (grids) connected by colored grids/edges (routes). //The board is asymmetric by design — Player 2's side has one extra diagonal route to compensate for moving second.

Pieces: Each player has the same three pieces. P1 tokens are yellow, P2 tokens are purple.

Piece	Terrain Access	Beats	Loses to
Tiger	Land	Crocodile, Gorilla, Tiger	Gorilla, Tiger
Gorilla	Land + Forest (green)	Tiger, Gorilla	Crocodile, Tiger, Gorilla
Crocodile	Land + Water (blue)	Gorilla, Crocodile	Tiger, Crocodile

Starting positions: All 3 pieces begin inside their respective home wing.

Rules:

1. Players alternate turns. P1 goes first. On your turn, move exactly one piece one step along any passable adjacent edge. Each player must move all of their remaining animals once before they can start reusing them again. Different routes support different animals.
2. You may not move onto a node occupied by your own piece.
3. Moving onto an enemy piece triggers combat — the losing piece is permanently removed. The winner stays.
4. Win by Elimination — capture all 3 enemy pieces, or Win by Invasion — move any piece into any node of the enemy home wing.
